LETTER OF THANKS

Dearest Sheila,

It is with great humility that I write this letter to thank you for all your support, assistance and guidance over the last couple of years. Bongi's Quest books have now reached, educated and empowered more than 25,000 children since its conception in 2011, with Dance To Be Wild being responsible for the production and distribution of 3,000 books and reaching a staggering 11,300 children through our collaboration alone.

The inclusion of your dancers into these educational events is going to be a fantastic addition and can't wait to see them wow and inspire the kids at the Kick it for Conservation soccer tournament in Hoespruit in September. The foundations that you install in your young dancers prove to be a winning recipe for the development of well rounded and mannered adults for the future. This is something that seems to be lacking in educational institutes, yet still holds such power in life. You are giving your kids a wonderful, wonderful gift that they are sure to only realise later on in life, at which point they will be eternally grateful and is absolutely priceless.

What really inspires and leaves me in awe, if not just your determination and work ethic for the greater good, but your ability to seamlessly bring organisations together for a common goal. In so doing, sharing resources to achieve even more as a whole and spanning continents and crossing oceans. It is truly a global fight that we find ourselves in and you have the ability to assemble a global army.

Please feel free to call on me in the future if there is anything that you need. It is always an honour and a privilege to assist.

Yours in conservation,

Chris Daniel
